

"FOURTH WORLD WARS: Indigenous Nationalism and the Emerging New International Political Order"

Author's Bio-sketch: Rudolph C. Rysler is a member of the Cowits Tribe located on the northwest coast of the United States. He is the former Special Assistant to the President of the World Council of Indigenous Peoples, and a former Deputy Director and Counselor for International Relations of the U.S. based National Congress of American Indians. He has authored many essays and articles concerning international indigenous affairs including: "Nation-States, Indigenous Nations and the Great Lie" which appears in the University of Toronto Press publication Pathways to Self-Determination; "Global Indigenous Sovereignty" which appears in The Global Reporter (Fall 1983), and "The World Bank's New Indigenous Policy: A Change in International Economic Development Strategies".
Mr. Rysler is currently working on a book entitled Indigenous Nationalism in North America.

"Sent to Tony Long as a second Jan 4, 1984 per his telephone call. He will send a new version."

Author's biographical sketch: Rudolph C. Rysler is a member of the Cowlitz Tribe located on the northwest coast of the United States. Mr. Rysler is the former Special Assistant to the President of the World Council of Indigenous Peoples, and a former Deputy Director and Counselor for International Relations of the U.S. based National Congress of American Indians. He has authored many articles concerning international indigenous affairs including: "Nation-States, Indigenous Nations and the Great Lie" which appears in the University of Toronto Press publication: Pathways to Self-Determination; "The World Bank's New Indigenous Policy: A Change in International Economic Development Strategies". Mr. Rysler is currently working on two books concerning international indigenous affairs.

"Fourth world wars" article sent to Tony Long at the University of Lethbridge on 6 Dec. 83.

included - waiver of Copyright and Bio J
