

Working Group on Social & Cultural Relations

Definitions:

The terms social and cultural, in the context of this working group, shall encompass, but not be limited to matters of education, health and health services; printed, electronic communications and telecommunications; technology, social systems, articles of patrimony, art and artifacts of historical merit, religious rights and rights to knowledge.

Charge to the Working Group

- [1] The Working Group on Social & Cultural Relations shall draft an analytical paper on relations between nations and nations and states in the social and cultural spheres (as defined above). This document shall report the practice and policy of nations and states as they interact in the ~~economic~~ ^{Social & Cultural} spheres. The report shall be no longer than fifty pages and shall include notations and references.
- [2] The Working Group on Social & Cultural Relations shall draft the language of an International Protocol on Social & Cultural relations between Nations and Nations and States which shall contain provisions describing a framework for relations based on mutual cooperation and respect, and language describing a framework for conflict resolution when two or more nations, or nations and states are in dispute.
- [3] The Working Group on Social & Cultural Relations shall serve as a technical advisory body to the CNS Plenary Body and to appropriate CNS sub-organs.

Membership

The Working Group on Social & Cultural Relations shall have seven members of whom three shall represent states' governments, three shall represent nations' governments and one shall serve as the Chairman/Rapporteur.