Fred Goldberg — a name synonymous with philanthropy in the Northwest.

Fred's family migrated to the Pacific Northwest in the 1930's to get away from the dustbowls that had plagued much of the Midwest. Arriving in Aberdeen, Washington, they set up a furniture store, which was to become one of a number of successful stores from Everett to Olympia.

A resident of Olympia since 1964, Fred was one of the founding directors of The Community Foundation of South Puget Sound. As an executive committee member of Saltchuck Resources (a holding company that oversees 17 maritime companies around the world), chairman of the board of Panorama City, and a director of Columbia Bank, Fred still finds time to oversee Goldberg Investments, a personal investment firm he owns with his mother, Eva, and sit on the boards of many other community organizations. His passions are fly-fishing, collecting art, and the Gibbons Lane Winery, owned and operated by his wife Carolyn.

Fred Goldberg and his family have made a difference in our community. We are delighted to have him join us to share those experiences.
